

What does an AI agent even mean?

✦ AI Overview

Agentic can refer to a number of things, including:

An AI system

An AI system that can autonomously pursue complex goals and workflows with limited human supervision. Agentic AI can understand context and instructions in natural language, set goals, and adapt decisions based on changing conditions. 🔗

An automation approach

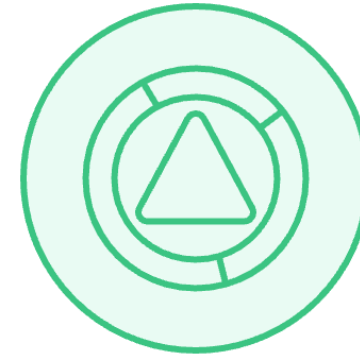

An automation approach that uses AI agents to autonomously execute complex tasks. Agentic automation agents can perceive their environment, reason, and formulate actions to achieve goals. 🔗

IMO, Agent is not a binary term.

Binary

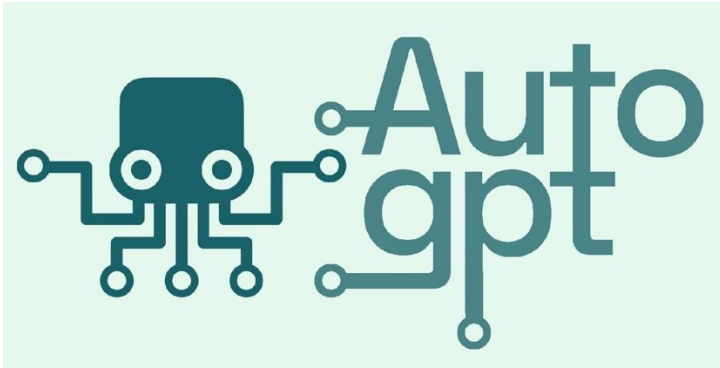

Simplistic categorization

Continuum

Nuanced perspective

Kinda Agent Buffet... is served

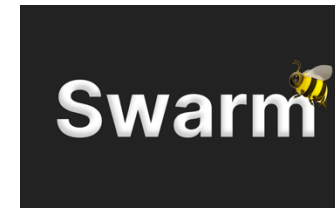

LangChain

LlamaIndex

Microsoft
AutoGen

Common Flaws of the Agent-ish Armies

Prompt Misinterpretation

Tool Use Misinterpretation

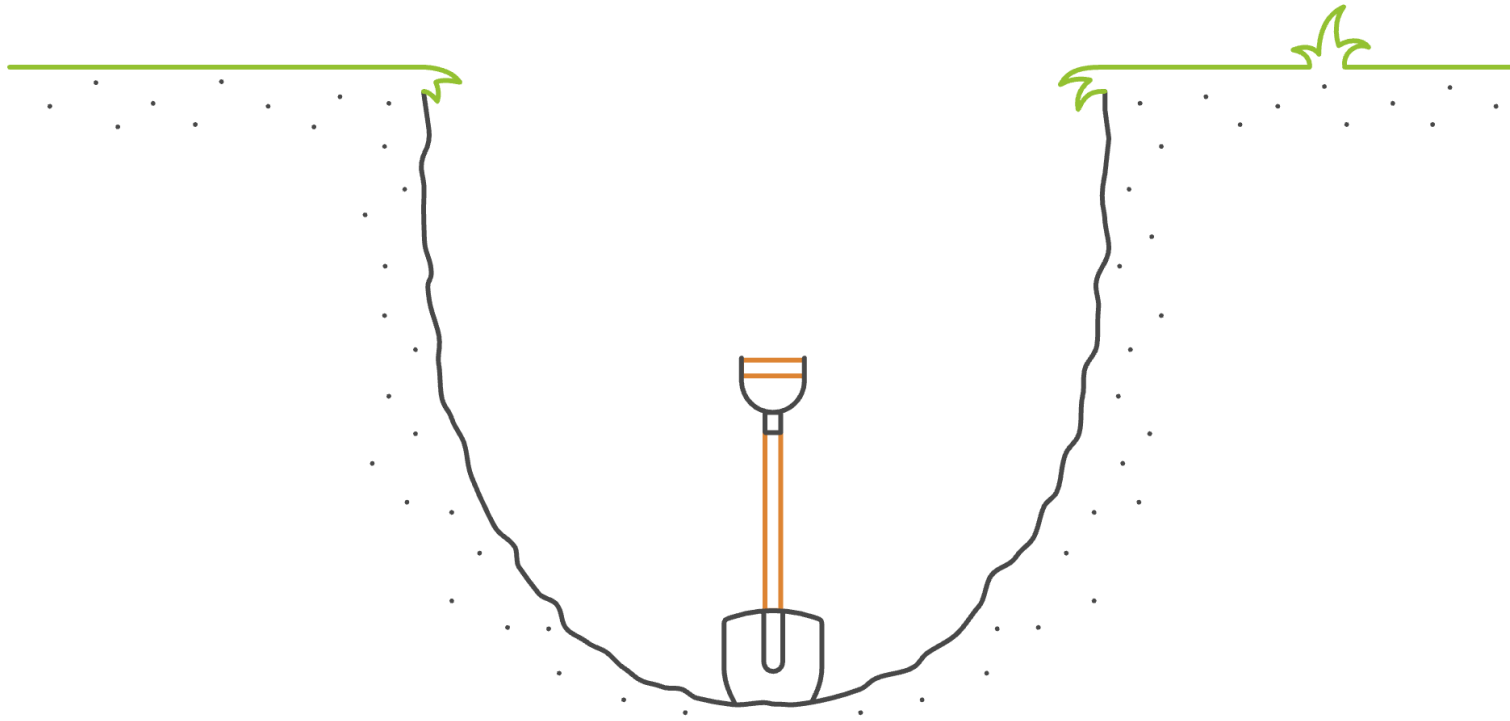

Tool Use Malfunctioning

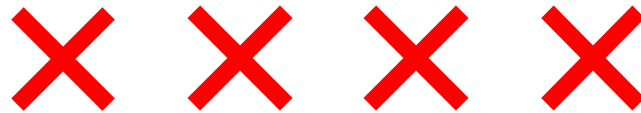

Agent-to-Agent Miscomms

Common Flaws of the Agent-ish Armies

One Agent with Errors, is a Problem

Many Agents with Errors, is a Disaster

TLDR Cheat Sheet

Chatbot

Custom GPTs

Chatbot + Wings

Assistants API

LLMs + Tools

Automation + Gen
AI Sprinkles

Agent-ish

Actual Agents (in theory)

Collaborative Multi-Agent Systems

Agent Network

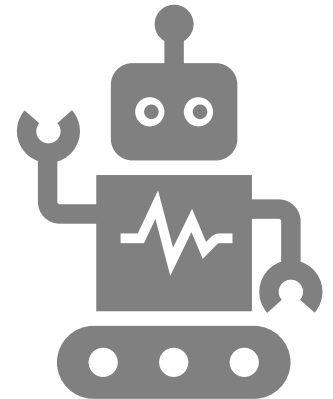

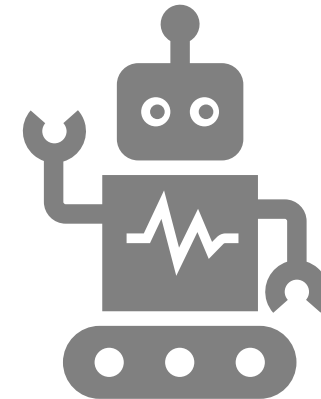

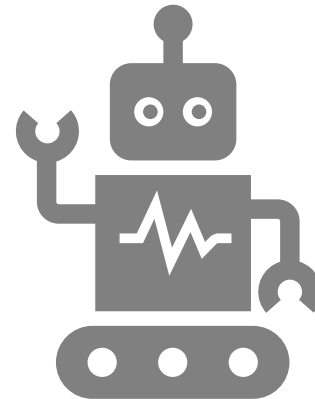

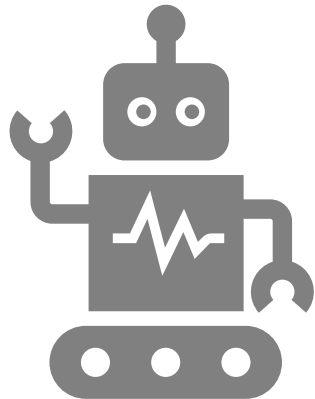

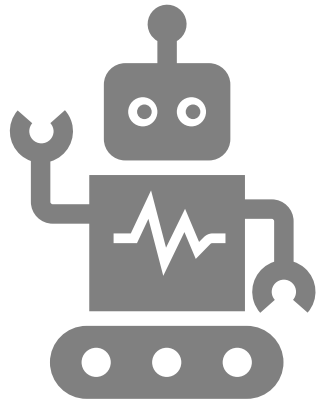

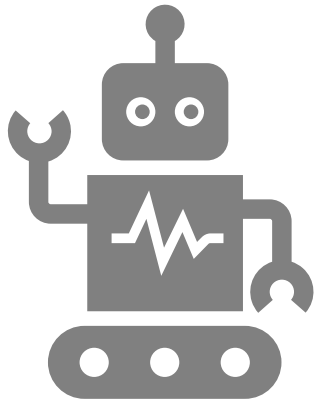

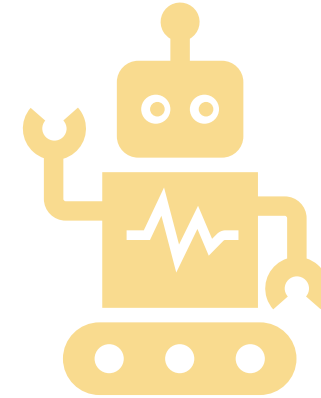

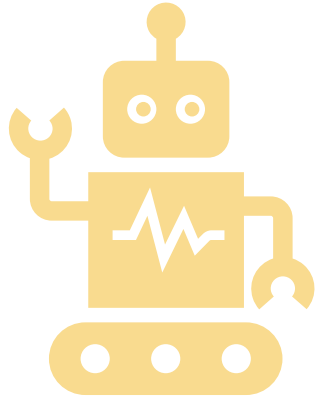

PROMPT|

PROMPT|

PROMPT|

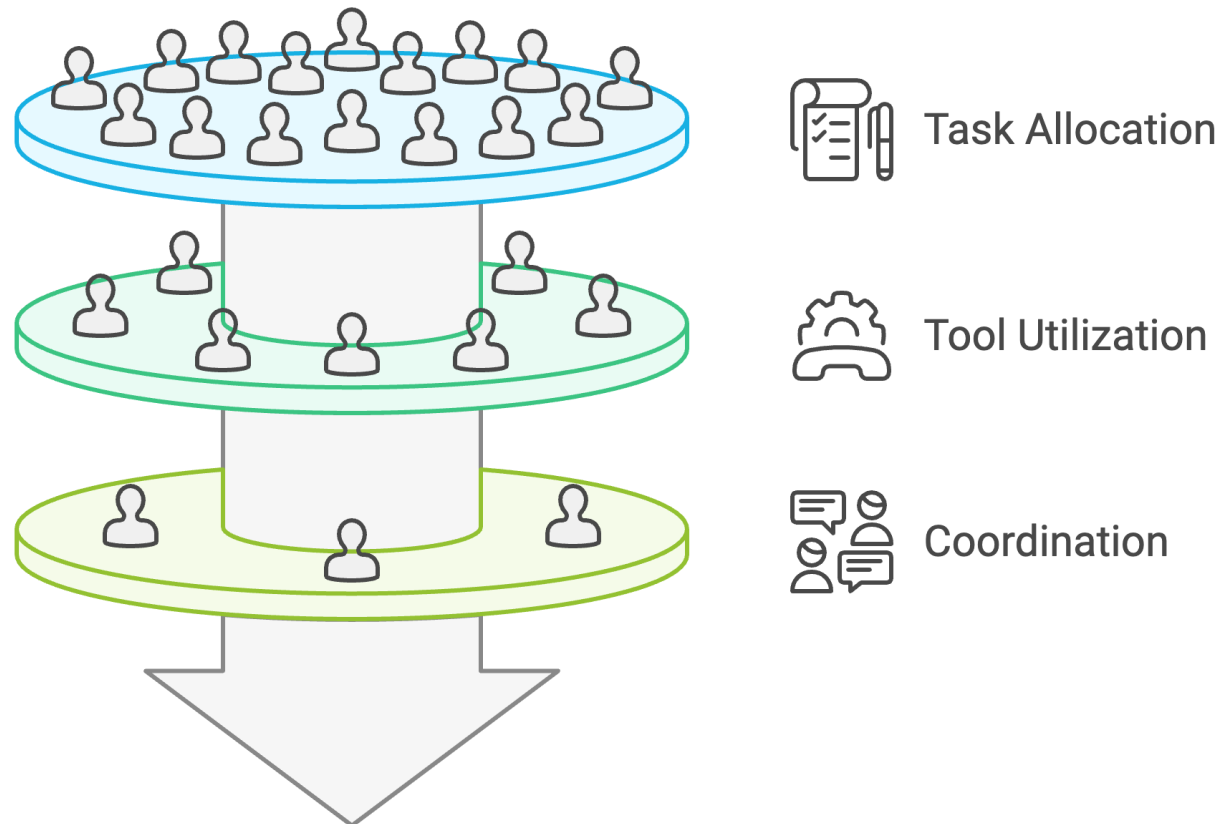

Supervisor-Agent Model

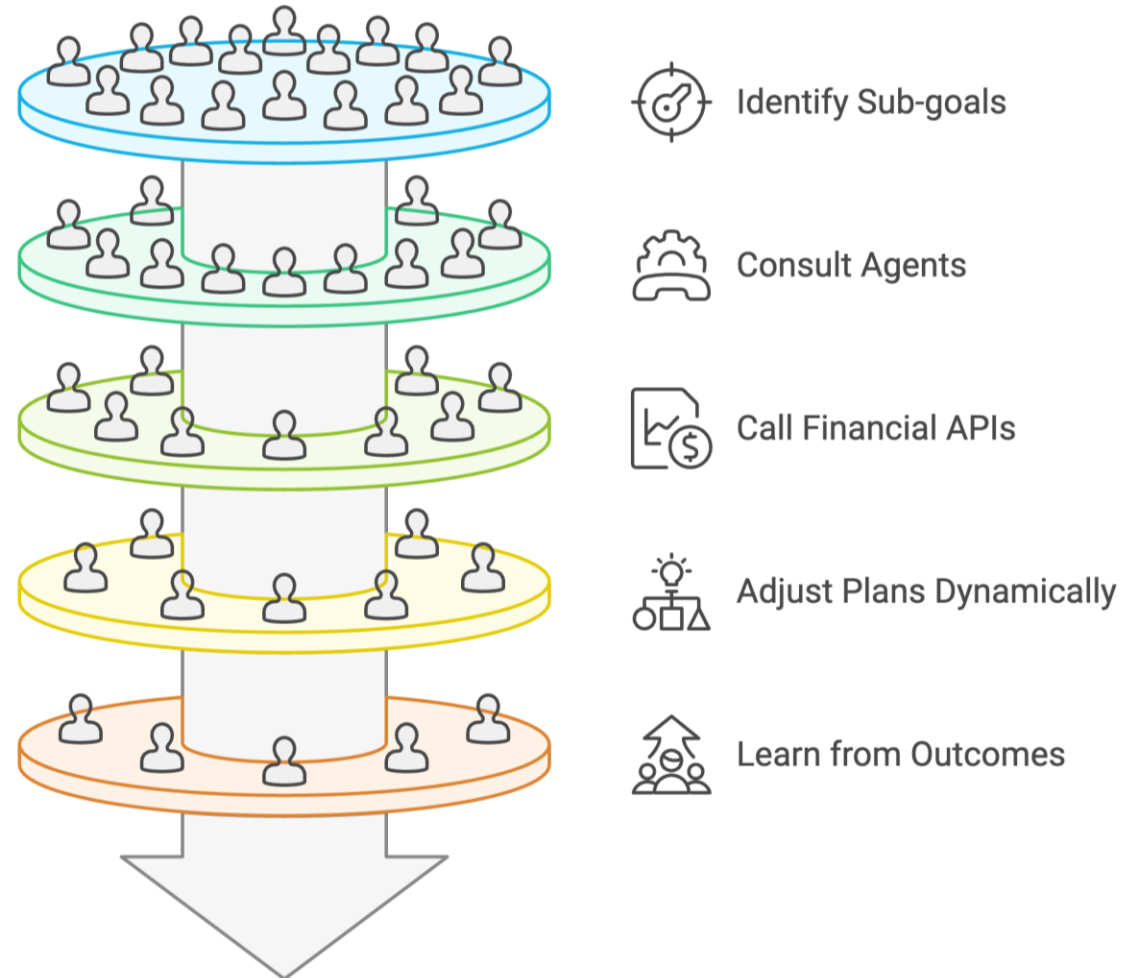

Hierarchal Agent Systems

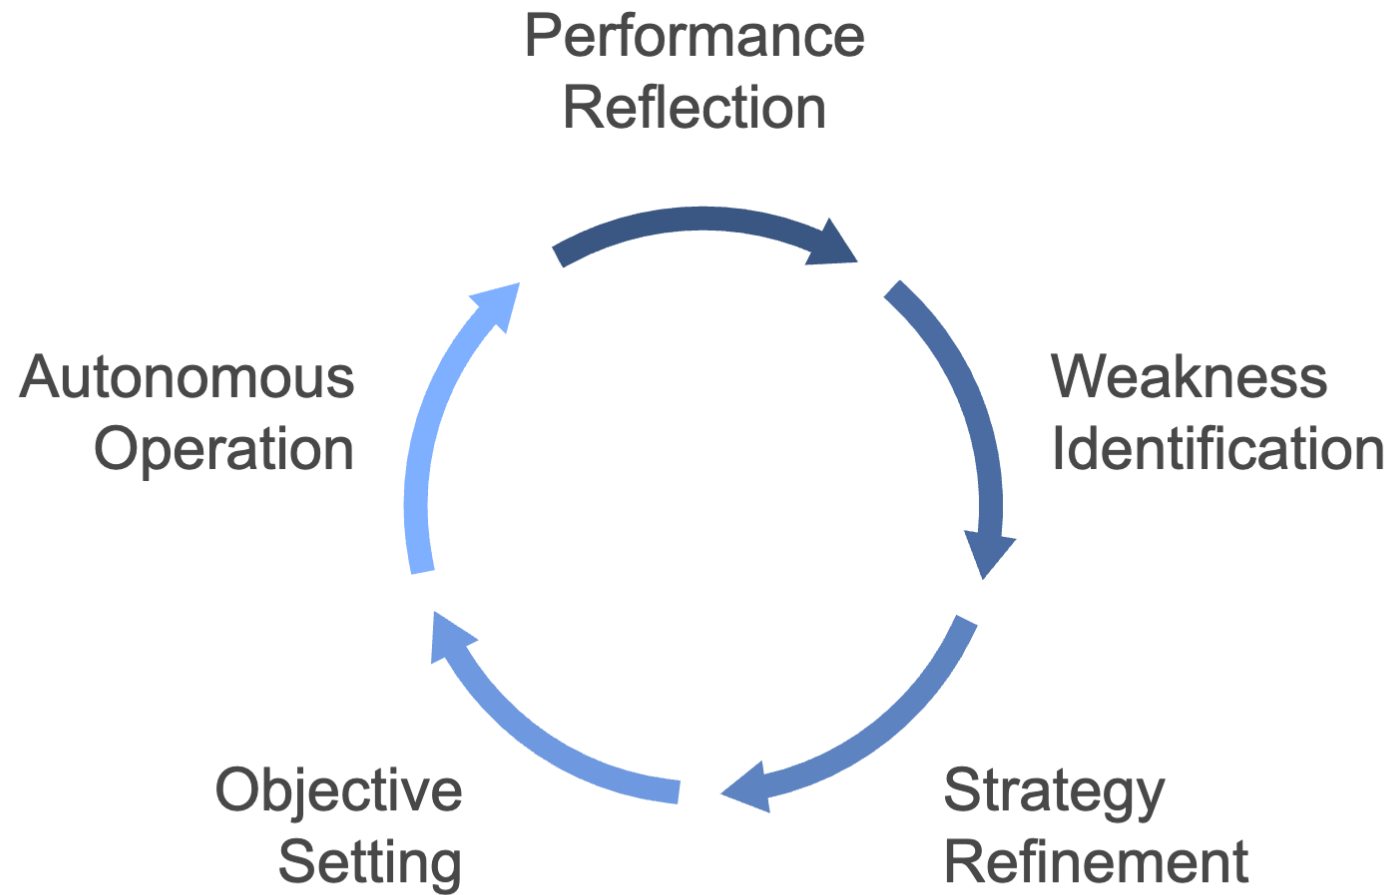

More Agentic and Hierarchal

(Even More) Hierarchal Agent Systems

Ideal Agent Workflow

What do 'I' think it will take to get truly autonomous agents?

What will it take to get these agents?

ChatGPT Pro

LLM Advances for Robust AI Agents

Thinking...

Details

What will it take to get these agents?

